

Sports Funding

Due to the impact and success of the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic games the Government announced new funding of £150 million for physical education (PE) and sport in April 2013 for schools. ### Impact on children and staff

In working in partnership with Sports Plus and other outside providers, teaching staff have increased their individual knowledge and skills in the areas of the curriculum covered in the class lessons outlined above. By observing outside providers, staff have commented how they now feel much more confident in delivering and assessing PE. Teachers working alongside and fill in a questionnaire each half term / coaching block to evaluate the outcome.

Teacher voice

'I have seen a positive change in some children in my class, especially the girls, they are now becoming more interested in PE and wanting to participate. They are asking when the clubs are and are wanting to join.

I feel that the girls in my class have benefited from taking part in gymnastics this half term as it has introduced a new sport and shown them another skill that they are able to succeed in which has greatly improved their confidence and participation in PE this half term.

'Willow class look forward to their PE lesson each week and absolutely love their coach, Adam, who is brilliant with the children! They work extremely hard and always try their best and it's lovely to see different groups of children working together.'

Children's Voice

'Adam is the best!'

'I've enjoyed doing gymnastics and games. Dodgeball is my favourite.'

'I like coming to dance club afterschool.'

Sustainability

The PE funding is being spent of the future of the children in Ashfield Infant and Nursery School. The high quality coaching through the service level agreements with Allerdale and St. Joseph's, as well as extra coaches brought in from the county, we are able to train the teaching and support staff with CPD (Continued Professional Development). Equipment is renewed and brought up to date on a regular basis so as to retain a high performance of practice.
