

Nothing is more important than children's welfare. Everyone who works with children has a responsibility for keeping them safe. No single practitioner can have a full picture of a child's needs and circumstances and, if children and families are to receive the right help at the right time, everyone who comes into contact with them has a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action.

(Working Together to Safeguard Children, HM Government 2018)

At Ashfield Infant and Nursery School we aim to safeguard and promote our pupils welfare, safety and health. The children will be guided by fostering an open, honest, caring and supportive climate. Our pupils' welfare and well-being are of paramount importance.

We believe in involving the children in decision-making in school. This includes activities within the curriculum, SMSC (spiritual, moral, social and cultural education) and School Council.

If a child says or otherwise communicates something that contradicts or conflicts with the parents/carers account of their health or welfare, then we all have a clear duty of care to ensure that any discrepancies are properly investigated and explained.

We will make any referrals necessary to ensure the well-being of all children is safeguarded.

The Education Act (2002) states that: "The Governing Body.....shall make arrangements for ensuring that their functions relating to the conduct of the school are exercised with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children....."
